We are preparing to compete, improve, and enjoy the tournament together. Each player and parent or guardian should review this agreement, share scheduling needs, and sign one copy for the coach.

1 The player commitment

I, the undersigned future 3v3 soccer legend, understand that my teammates are counting on me. Talent helps. Effort, discipline, and teamwork make us a team. I agree to:

⏰ Show up ready

Attend confirmed practices and the tournament. Arrive 10 minutes before practice with equipment on. Tell the coach early about conflicts, illness, or injury.

"I forgot it was Sunday" is a tough sell.

💪 Give my best effort

Work hard in training, at home, and in games. Listen, ask questions, and accept feedback without acting personally betrayed. Best effort includes speaking up when I am hurt or unwell.

🏠 Train at home

Practice 15–20 minutes, at least 3 days a week when healthy and able: ball control, juggling, passing, first touch, and both-foot dribbling in a safe space. Rest matters.

Watching Messi highlights does not count.

🤝 Put the team first

Everyone attacks, defends, communicates, and learns multiple roles. Nobody is too important to substitute. After a mistake, encourage a teammate and help recover.

Passing is not a sign of weakness.

🏅 Respect the game

Respect teammates, coaches, opponents, and referees. Arrive at the tournament reporting time, follow warm-ups, and stay with the team during designated activities. Bring effort regardless of the score.

About playing time: The coach will manage positions and substitutions based on team needs, effort, fitness, safety, and game situations. No fixed playing-time amount is promised.

A serious note from Coach Chris

I am a licensed U.S. Soccer coach. My credentials can be viewed through U.S. Soccer at ussoccer.com using my name and USSF ID.

I will follow all U.S. Soccer training and safety protocols. Player wellbeing, age-appropriate training, and a positive learning environment will guide our preparation.
